LONDON PROGRAMME:
PROFESSIONAL LEGAL ENGLISH FOR INTERNATIONAL PRACTICE

English is the working language of international legal practice. Lawyers engaged in cross-border transactions, international disputes, and multinational commercial work must be able to understand and use Legal English accurately and confidently. In this environment, language is not simply a communication tool , it is part of professional competence and risk management.

The programme is aligned with the TOLES (Test of Legal English Skills) Higher syllabus and is based on The Lawyer's English Language Coursebook. It develops Legal English through key areas of legal practice, including legal professions and procedure, business law, contracts and banking, tort and liability, and intellectual property, using realistic legal texts and scenarios throughout.
